

Building Our Legacy

AN UPDATE ON OUR BUILDING EXPANSION

I'm sure that by this time everyone has seen the progress that's being made on the building and the site work. The basement walls are nearly complete and within the next month you should be seeing the upper walls going up. It's exciting to see the progress after all the delays we experienced getting started.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of the members of the Building Committee who have been working hard to make things happen.

Chris Kelly and his committee have been meeting often with the electrical contractor to assure that everything is coordinated properly for all audio/visual needs that might come up in the future. This is a huge job and that committee is meeting it head on.

Jeanne Radtke and her committee have also been working hard in all the interior details including picking out colors, carpeting, furniture, etc. They have met several times in Oconomowoc with MSI Generals interior design to make sure everything is properly coordinated.

Norm Dearth has been invaluable with his knowledge of the mechanical aspects of the project to make sure all of them are coordinated so that when the building is complete things will work properly. The electrical contractor he's working with has been extremely cooperative and things are coming together nicely.

I'd also like to give a huge thank you to all the members of the congregation for their understanding and support of this project. I realize that things have been rather hectic for many of the members, particularly with the parking situation and the fact that our handicap entrance has been out of commission for a while. But this will change soon.

Many members have expressed concern that we won't be ready for our turkey supper, but we've been assured by the contractor that things will be back together for that event. One handicap entrance will be back usable, and we will have access to the freezer in the back storage area. The site will be cleaned up and we should have adequate parking to accommodate everyone.

As time goes on things will continue to get better and better and hopefully we will be able to worship in our new sanctuary by Easter. Please keep praying for all of us that are involved in this exciting venture. When it's complete, it will be something that we can all be proud of.

Concrete is poured for the the new footings.

Three days of steady rain made things a little muddy.
